About the artwork

Becoming, explores transformation as a continuous, unfolding process. Layers of vivid blue, deep violet, magenta, turquoise, and touches of yellow emerge and disperse across the white ground, creating a sense of movement, expansion, and evolution. The organic forms appear to shift between connection and separation, suggesting moments of growth, emergence, and change.

The contrast between concentrated areas of pigment and the open white space allows the composition to breathe, while the fluidity of the medium creates an interplay between control and spontaneity. The work reflects the idea of becoming not as a fixed state, but as an ongoing journey shaped by movement, encounter, and transformation.
