About the artwork

As night falls, the Piano Bar awakens, not with loud voices, but with quiet emotions.

The soft glow of dim lights reflects on polished surfaces, while an unseen piano fills the air with melodies shaped by time and longing. Every note seems to carry a memory, every pause a story left untold.

Within these walls, strangers become listeners, and silence speaks as clearly as sound.

A glass rests on the counter, a shadow lingers nearby, and the music gently weaves them together. The Piano Bar is more than a place, it is a moment suspended between past and present, where hearts pause, if only briefly, before returning to the world outside.
